GET BUONO, IS ADVICE OF THE CORONER'S JURY

Inquest Into Death of Sanfillippi Brings Out Murder Details

STORY OF AFFAIR TOLD

Shooting Takes Place at Rear of Barber Shop---Buono's Wife Important Witness

That August Buono was the murderer of Calogero Sanfillippi at the rear of a McKean avenue barber shop and that county and town authorities should use all efforts to apprehend Buono, was the sense of the coroner's jury in their finding at the inquest into Sanfillippi's death Friday evening. The inquest was conducted at the undertaking rooms of Lawrence B. Frye by Coroner James T. Heffran.

The verdict rendered after the five witnesses in the case were heard was as follows:

"We the jury find that Calogero Sanfillippi came to his death at Charleroi Nov. 24, 1914, from hemorrhages and shock as a result of a bullet wound through his left lung, said bullet wound having been inflicted by a revolver in the hands of Augsto Buono at Long alley, Charleroi. We recommend that authorities, both county and local, use every effort to secure the arrest of the said Augsto Buono, so he may be held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of murder.

The witnesses heard were John Di-Bello, Louis Alterise, Dominick Perpetti, who were in the barber shop at the time of the shooting, Dr. Edwin McKay, who conducted the post mortem into the man's death and Josephine Buono, the wife of August Buono, who is accused of the murder.

The testimony showed that Buono had entered the barber shop shortly after 7 o'clock and had requested Sanfillippi to come to the back with him for a talk. He closed the door leading from the barber shop and a moment later a shot was heard. Buono re-entered the barber shop and left. It was ascertained in the inquest for certainty that he had turned up Sixth street and had disappeared. Dr. McKay told of the cause of death as he had discovered in his post mortem examination.

The most important witness was Mrs. Buono. She testified as to her association with Sanfillippi, admitting that she had lived with him for a time as his wife, in Bristol, near New York city. She said that the Monday night before the murder Sanfillippi met her at the gate of her home as she was starting for the store, and had asked her to wait, that he wished to speak with her. She declined, she said, and returned to her home, where she told her husband of the occurrence. He did not talk on the subject, she said, but simply replied, "Alright." After her husband left the house at about 7 o'clock on the Tuesday evening of the affair, she testified, she looked for his revolver, but held to the statement that this was rather an ordinary proceeding for her. She would not say that she feared trouble between the two men, but said she

Barbed Wire Order Filled

Donora Plant Turns Out Material to be Used by Warring European Country

On display at Monongahela this week was a piece of heavy barbed wire manufactured in the mills of the American Steel and Wire Company at Donora for use in war. The wire is termed "Barbed War Wire" and it is very strong. It is understood that a large shipment of the wire is to be made to Europe soon to be used in the war.

The wire is stretched around posts until a web of network is made. The posts set about four feet high and are located about eight or ten feet apart. The string has heavy wire crosses of four sharp points fastened about an inch apart forming a complete string of sharp ugly points. In the attack of Kie-chau the Japanese soldiers encountered many barbed wire entanglements and were forced to spend some time in cutting the wire while under the heavy fire of the enemy. It is impossible for an army to move on when confronted by the wire work until it is cut.

CARRY ON WORK OF CHARITY

Local Board Makes Report of Accomplishments in One Year

BANKS RECEIVE MONEY

The Associated Board of Charities accomplished much last year and great preparations are being made for the coming year. Many people were aided by the charities board during the past year. There is almost $200 cash left over from last year and more money will be raised by personal subscriptions in a short time.

The following is the report for the past year:

Cash received since last Thanksgiving	$710.43
Cash expended since last Thanksgiving	$515.58
Balance in hands of treasurer	194.85

Donations of clothing and groceries received during the year were valued at $248. Goods to the value of $233 have been distributed by the charities board, which leaves goods on hand to the value of $15.

The board of poor directors of Washington contributed $104.56. The directors felt that as Charleroi is a heavy supporter of the county's finances it was proper that they should as-

ENOUGH MEN HERE TO FORM BIG REGIMENT

Millitary Enrollment Shows That Over 1,200 Men Would be Available for Duty in Case of Invasion or War

Though the United States does not propose to fight, Charleroi if necessary could put into the field a well equipped and numerically strong regiment. The military enrollment which includes men available for military duty under 45 years of age, according to Assessor J. L. Reeves, is 1,208. This year's military enrollment is somewhat better than that of last year, when the enrollment of men available for duty was only slightly over 1,000. In 1912 the enrollment was over 1,100.

Assessor Reeves has about completed his work and will probably make his return to the county commissioners on Monday.

NEW MONEY HERE; IS REAL THING IN BILLS

Ten and Five Dollar Federal Reserve Notes on Hand at One of Local Banks---Pretty Pictures on the Back

Spic and span and just a little different from the sort of "root of all evil" we have been more or less used to a supply of brand new money has arrived at the Charleroi Savings and Trust company, each bill being properly labeled "Federal Reserve Note." This is the money that has been made and is now being circulated under the new currency law, and from the appearance of it the bills will be more popular than the models in recent use.

Two denominations, the five and ten dollar notes, have been received at the Savings and Trust company, and the supply is exceedingly limited for the present. Already there has been a demand for the crisp new fangled money.

The ten dollar notes bear on the face a picture of Andrew Jackson in the center. At both the top and the bottom the words "Federal Reserve Note" appears. To the right of Jackson's picture is a red seal and to the left is a bank seal. W. G. McAdoo has his name inscribed as Secretary of the Treasury to the right at the bottom, and at the left at the bottom is the signature of John Burke, treasurer of the United States.

It is on the back of the note where an improvement over the old style has been effected. On the left side is printed a picture of a farmer harvesting a rich crop, and to the right is printed an industrial scene. Smoke may be seen issuing from factories and a freight siding is pictured. Indicating the up-to-dateness of the scene a huge motor truck is to be distinguished backed against a freight car. The old ten-dollar notes bore a historical picture on the back. The figure "10" is printed at each of the four corners of the note on both sides in such a way as to make duplication difficult.

There is little difference between the five and the ten dollar denominations. However the picture on the face is that of a different man. On the five-dollar bill is shown a likeness of Abraham Lincoln. Historical scenes are pictured on the back.

QUAKER MEETING HOUSE MAY AGAIN BE PUT IN USE

The little old Quaker meeting house near Dick, Sewickly township, which adjoins Rostraver township in Westmoreland county may be used again, and recently a congregational meeting was held preparatory to holding services. For more than a decade few religious services have been held in the historic old Quaker church. The congregation was established over a century ago. Shortly after the Colonist secured their freedom a number of stalwart Quakers secured a grant of land in Sewickley township. Among the pioneer settlers and founders of the Quaker church were the McGrews, Copes, Gilberts, Means, and other families.

A plain frame meeting house was erected and a cemetery was laid out and for 100 years followers of William Penn met every Sunday morning and Wednesday to worship. That section of the township was known as the Quaker settlement. They were farmers and their lands were very fertile and they are underlaid with the Pittsburg seam of coal. As the older members of the Quakers passed away many of their children through marriage united with other religious denominations.

Their coal lands brought fancy figures in the market and many members sold their coal lands and moved to Columbiana county, O., where there is a big colony of Quakers. Others moved to various places and the congregation has dwindled to only a few members.

THREE HAVE CLOSE CALL IN ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Hall and Mrs. E. D. Dawson of Charleroi had a miraculous escape from serious injury or death one night this week when the auto truck in which they were riding was pushed over the bank by the auto truck of Mike Gaspich, of Monessen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall with Mrs. Dawson were returning from Roscoe, where they had just delivered donations of the North Charleroi school children, and a Sunday school class for the poor. They were a short distance above Speers when Mr. Hall drove his car to the edge of the bank to allow the Gaspich auto truck to pass. The Gaspich truck struck the rear wheel of Mr. Hall's truck and shoved it forward over the embankment.

The truck dashed down the embankment for about ten feet and was stopped from overturning by a small tree. The spokes were smashed from one of the front wheels, wher it came in contact with the tree. None of the occupants were seriously injured. Mr. Hall was slightly injured about the face and shoulder. Mrs. Dawson's side was injured where it came in contact with the side of the truck.

Edward Mansfield, colored was driving the Gaspich truck. Besides the driver there were in the truck Mr. Gaspich, who is a butcher in Monessen, Charles Stamler and a colored man.

Pass Pharmacist Exams.

Among those who passed the pharmacy examinations recently conducted in the state were Henry D. Primas, formerly of Charlero, and Harold W. Fellows, of Charleroi.

FIRE AT BENTLEYVILLE DESTROYS A DWELLING

Damage of $1,000 is Wrought at Home of Mabel Bedsworth

LOCAL FIREMEN CALLED

New Truck Made Ready for Run When News Comes That Blaze is Under Control

A fire of such consequence that it not only destroyed one house, but threatened others, occurred this morning at Bentleyville. The house destroyed was that of Mabel Bedsworth of North Main street. The Charleroi fire department was called but a second telephone message after the fire department had prepared to make the run gave the news that the fire was out.

The blaze started in the weather boarding of the dwelling in such a way as to make it difficult to get at. Before the flames could be controlled damage to the extent of at least $1,000 had been done. Furniture, together with the house, was burned.

The Charleroi fire department received an alarm and the new motor fire truck was placed in instant readiness for the trip. Firemen were on hand and the panting truck was all ready for a quick run to Bentleyville when the appeal for aid was called off.

Some Job to Choose Name

Approximately 850 Suggestions for New Theatre Title Are Received

The judges who act on the selection of a name for the new theatre to be opened up the first of the year in the Fan building by Hepler and Mathews will stack up against a real job. There have been 850 suggestions of names received in the contest which the firm is conducting for a name.

Some of the names have been duplicated time after time. Arrangement is being made of all the names received in alphabetical order to lessen to the greatest extent possible the labors of the judges. They will be named next week and probably make their selection then.

SHUTDOWN OF MINES HARDSHIP

Marianna People Suffering From Lack of Provisions

HAVE LITTLE TO EAT

The shutting down of the mines of the Pittsburg-Buffalo company at Marianna November 1 has caused considerable suffering there during the past few days and the need of immediate relief work is imperative in at least 15 families of that borough. At the present time no organized relief work is being done there and the principal thing needed is food.

In Marianna there are 250 families and while most of these families are not in need at this time many of them will need assistance to tide them over the winter if the mines do not open and they are unable to obtain work elsewhere.

Marianna is peculiarly situated. All the houses in the borough are owned by the coal company and all the families are miners and as a result they cannot expect a great deal of assistance from each other.

The fact that the affairs of the Pittsburg-Buffalo company are in the hands of a receiver make the situation all the more serious. The miners have plenty of coal and good houses to live in but they lack funds with which to buy food, and as their credit is gone they must receive aid from outside sources. The company store cannot help the people.

BEST TEAM BEATEN REPORTED STATEMENT OF REFEREE AIKEN

"The best team was beaten" is the remark that "Biddy" Aiken of Washington, is said to have made after refereeing the Monongahela high school Charleroi high school football game at Monongahela Thanksgiving day. This was only one of the many compliments heard on the game. Umpire Ashe of the University of Pittsburg paid the teams a compliment by stating that the game was the best and the cleanest he had ever seen.

STAND BY HIM.

"A Good Governor—Stand by Him" the way Goodloe H. Thomas, editor the Friday Evening Call of Monesa who is also county chairman of Washington party organization in estmoreland county, speaks of gov-rnor-elect Martin G. Brumbaugh. n part Editor Thomas says: "By large majority Dr. Martin G. mbaugh was elected governor of nsylvania. It is perhaps true that received a much larger vote from progressive temperance people. "Stand by him. There is more than e way of killing a cat; perhaps umbaugh is the man. "Brumbaugh is to be governor and are willing to accept every good t published for him, and to treat h doubt every statement and conion and association which stood inst him. "Stand by him. This is the best ade that can be followed. Brumbaugh the governor's chair, is the goverr of the whole people, and as such n have no other interest than the hole people's interests."

SELF-CONTROL.

The football season is over and arful parents are breathing easier. f course the usual toll of broken nes, dislocated joints, injured tends and deaths was taken, but the sean was a success.

Football has a hold on the Ameri-n people that is second only to base-ll. To attract 70,000 people to one me between teams of two of the ost noted colleges of the country incates that the game must have some erit. No more remarkable than the rvard-Yale game for attendance is that nearer at home when the onongahela and Charleroi high hools played.

If properly conducted, football is a od thing. The rigorous training hletes of the team must go through the best thing that could happen to em. Those most severely injured, is noticed are those who fail to obrve the common rules of the train-g table.

Youths must have something of the nd or they will burst from pent energy. Football is a developing gency in many ways. It develops e mentality. Football requires think-g but that isn't all. In school work e system is that a man who applies mself to football must first apply mself to school duties and it is a oticeable fact that when such a hard id fast rule is enforced the best footall men are the best students.

In a rigorously trained football even one of the essentials is self-ntrol. This is a virtue. In everyay life-control is a prime requiite, and lacking it, we lack most erything.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

On the subject of "The Girl Who an Cook" Goodle H. Thomas has the llowing to say in the editorial colmns of the Friday Evening Call:

Where is the old-fashioned girl who vised her mother to go into the ront room" on Thanksgiving Day id entertain the company, while she, e daughter, gave the finishing uches to the turkey roasting in the en and looked after the final deils of the choicest banquet of the ar?

Sadly enough for our notions of nance, this girl of our dreams, ose face, flushed as a full-blown e, was lifted in joyful expectancy the guests filed in and took their ces about the Thanksgiving board, ere the great turkey loomed like ountain of plentitude, literally fallover himself in the effort to share the general spirit of rejoicing—sadly enough, we say, the girl is not at her post of duty. She has fled. But where? Is her presence known in some other cycle of idealistic endeavor?

Alas! Alack!—and more than that. She is now chief operator on a downtown cash register and she could no more roast a turkey than she could make her own clothes. She has moved into another sphere, where chewing gum and moving picture shows and funny little dudes who can do the Gum Drop and the Girly Giggle constitute the Alpha and Omega of existance. Roast a turkey! Aw, say, kid, whatcha think I am—a Delmonniker chef?

Dear soul, this golden-hearted, wholesome, hospitable girl has disappeared. She has kitchen-sinked and honey-winked, lamby skipped, fantasitically tripped over the horizon of modern society into the land of canned music, canned salmon and—sometimes, Heaven help her—the Land of Canned Happiness. But we think of her and pray for her in the ascending incense of the Competent Cook She Was Intended to Be.

We have a serious background for our regrets at the dear girl's untimely demise from the scenes of her chief glory and her fame. New York's food supply commission has made the discovery that young girls, working in stores, offices and factories and neglecting the gentle arts of the culinary department, are largely to blame for the high cost of living. Girls raised in the homes of the well-to-do are equally at fault. Coming at last into homes of their own, they are unfitted, by experience, to meet the demands of economic expenditure in a manner that will help the struggling husband make both ends meet. They have not learned to cook—these girl's; housekeeping is, to them, a lost art.

Sadly enough, it must be confessed that this is all true. Clerks, truly, are plentiful, but good cooks are few.

Can we not prevail upon you, girls, to come back to the cooking range and roasting pan and the basting spoon? Where, Maud, is the glory of pressing the keys of an overworked cash register; of cornering restaurant checks and winking at milk-eyed Johnnies who never have more than the price of fried cakes and coffee in their pockets at one time—can you not break away from these, dear girl, and come back this Thanksgiving Day, and take up your old position by the oven door, helping mother with the oyster dressin' and the brown gravy?

A young couple were observed as soon as they entered a railway car and immediately put down as a bridal pair. But they were remarkably self-possessed and acted just like old married folk, so that after a short time the other passengers began to doubt their belief after all.

As the train moved out, however, the young man rose to remove his overcoat and a shower of rice fell out. The pasengers smiled broadly. But even that did not affect the youth, who also smiled and, turning to his partner remarked audibly:

"My goodness, May, I've brought away the bridegroom's overcoat."

A strong vaudeville bill is appearing at the Palace this week. Bowen and Bowen are appearing in a sidewalk flirtation act, which is exceptionally amusing. Edith Aston, comedienne, is an artist in her profession. Lancaster and Small put on a comedy sketch which is hard to beat. "An Absent Minded Cupid," a comedy with Gladys Hullette, Edward Bowlden, Harry Beaumont, Julian Reed and Harry Linson in the leading part was a big feature Wednesday. Beginning with Monday the Alliance Program of Favorite Players will be shown at the Palace. Carlyle Blackwell and an all star cast will appear in "The Key of Yesterday," in four parts.

COYLE—CHARLEROI.

A big variety show was a feature for Thanksgiving at the Coyle theatre. SALE OF RED CROSS SEALS TO BEGIN HERE

The Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign has begun. It is one of the main instruments in the fight against tuberculosis, Pennsylvania's greatest enemy, because the proceeds from the sale go directly into the state wide crusade against the dread disease. The seals sell at the usual price of one cent each, and will be on sale during December in the stores and public places of communities throughout the state, while thousands of local societies, schools and churches will promote the sale.

Ray C. Risley, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania society for the prevention of tuberculosis was in Charleroi this week looking after matters pertaining to the sale of the Red Cross stamps, which went on sale Friday. Members of some of the local Women's clubs are being asked to cooperate in the sale of the stamps.

AFTER PASSING YEARS

Charleroi Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Charleroi story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. George Ewing, 613 Shady avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "One of the family had attacks of kidney disease for years. He often complained of his back aching and he was so bad at times that he had to lay off from work. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and caused him much annoyance. Mornings he got up feeling lame and stiff. He was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a box at Pinn's Pharmacy. After taking the remedy a short time he was benefited and several boxes did him a world of good."

A Later Statement.

On January 21, 1913, Mrs. Ewing said: "We still hold as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as when we gave a public statement praising them some time ago. We always have a box of this remedy in the house and recommend it whenever we can."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ewing recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

It is a claim for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Axton when an automobile driven by Mr. Gregg ran away on the streets of West Brownsville. Mr. Gregg is charged with negligence in the manner in which he was driving the car.

The accident occurred on May 14, 1913. Mrs. Axton was walking along the sidewalk with a young daughter. Mr. Gregg's car ran up on the walk striking Mrs. Axton. She was thrown and in addition to a broken leg, received cuts and bruises. She avers permanently injuries. CUTTING AFFRAY OCCURS AT DONORA

Joseph Johnson, aged 62 years, and a well known resident of Donora, was taken to the Memorial hospital Thursday evening in a serious condition as the result of a cutting affair in the barroom of a Donora hotel. Johnson is suffering from a knife wound in the abdomen. It is believed that he will recover. John Swason, colored, the alleged wielder of the knife, was arrested shortly after and is at present in the lockup pending the outcome of Johnson's injuries.

Several persons were in the barroom at the time. No quarrel is said to have arisen between the two men, and there was no sign of anything amiss until Johnson fell to the floor. Swason hurried from the hotel and when arrested is said to have confessed to the act and is reported to have said that his reason for doing it was because Johnson had hit him. A large razor was found in the possession of the colored man.
